

The CIPS made application for Olympic recognition

The C.I.P.S. has sent to the International Olympic Committee (I.O.C.) the application to be recognized by it as Olympic sport.

The CIPS has collected all required documents and answers to all questions of the application questionnaire file of the International Olympic Committee, and has presented his application for the Olympic recognition.

“I would like to confirm we are convinced that obtaining this recognition, and becoming member of the Olympic family, it would be very important for CIPS; because besides giving a great additional contribution for promoting not only the fishing sport but the universal sport, it would enlarge the development and the universality of the Olympic idea all over the world” – said Mr. Ferenc Szalay, President of the CIPS.

The International Olympic Committee recognition would give also to all National Federations not recognized till now by their own National Olympic Committees the possibility to obtain this recognition and finally to acquire the dignity to be considered a sport with capital S, and a great possibility for our sport to be included in a future Olympic Games.
